CHAIRPERSON'S REPORT TO PARLIAMENT FOR THE 2004/05

1. INTRODUCTION

2004/05 was arguably the most significant year for the Board since its inception. The advent of the Health Practitioner Competence Assurance Act (2003) (HPCA) in September significantly changed the rationale, administration and direction of the Board and its implementation will take a number of years to complete. This report outlines the work of the Board in implementing the Act, and summarises other significant Board activities related to education and examinations, professional discipline, relationship development, Trans-Tasman Mutual Recognition (TTMRA) and financial administration.

2. HEALTH PRACTITIONER COMPETENCE ASSURANCE ACT

The provisions of the HPCA took effect on 18 September 2004. I am comfortable with the progress the Board has made in establishing its administration under the new legislative environment, however, the Board recognises that much work has yet to be done, in fully implementing the professional discipline and continuing competence opportunities available under the Act.

If the Board had a single concern regarding the legislation it would be the time still required to address disciplinary issues. While the Act provides a wider range of options for the Board to address concerns about the professionalism of chiropractors, the process is still protracted and, at times, leaves Board members uneasy that these issues cannot be addressed more expeditiously. Furthermore, it is, in the opinion of the Board, an unwieldy situation when a chiropractor has been convicted of a criminal offence, there is still the need to have a protracted and expensive process to deal with the situation.

However, I have been satisfied with how the Board has successfully addressed the issues presented by the new legislation over the last year, and I am confident it has the capacity to meet new challenges as they arise.

3. COMPETENCE EXAMINATIONS

Over the last year the Board has been giving formal consideration to aligning the examination system of Australia with our own. The proposal arises from the Board's work in promoting a single Australasian set of examination protocols which limit the ability of some foreign, or foreign-educated, chiropractors to use the provisions of the Trans-Tasman Mutual Recognition Act to 'shop and hop'.

The Board has been successful in encouraging its Australian colleagues to establish common standards which non-Australasian chiropractors, and those educated outside Australasia, must meet before registration is granted. The logical development of this approach is the establishment of a single Australasian competence examination.

In promoting this development the Board is conscious that its governing legislation is different in substance to that regulating Australian jurisdictions, and that New Zealand has a cultural competence component to its administration which is absent from Australian states and territories.

This matter, which has the unanimous support of the Australian Chiropractic Boards, will require further detailed consideration in the coming year.

4. COMPETENCE REVIEWS

The introduction of the HPCA gave the Board a new tool for the support and discipline of members of the profession. The option to undertake a competence review of a chiropractor's professional practice gives the Board the option of a collegial, supportive approach to professionals who it is believed may be practicing in contradiction of the Board's Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice document.

At the time of preparing this report only a small number of competence reviews have been undertaken and my initial impression is that they have the potential to allow the Board to assist chiropractors to meet their professional obligations. However the cost of implementing reviews is substantial and with this additional cost in mind the Board has increased its financial provision for dealing with reviews from $10,000 to $50,000 for the coming year.

In making this provision the Board has asked that the Minister's attention be drawn to the extent of these costs and note that at some stage in the future there may be a need to increase the cost of an annual practising certificate to support this expenditure.

5. FORMAL CONTACT WITH ACC

One of the major steps forward for the Board this year has been to establish regular formal meetings with ACC. The Board is conscious that an ongoing dialogue with ACC is of considerable value to the profession and the public and these have now been put in place at two levels:

- a. Formal six monthly meetings between representatives of the Board and senior ACC officials; and
- b. Regular meetings between the Board Registrar and ACC officials working on a day-to-day basis with chiropractic affairs.

The Board looks forward to the development of this relationship in the interests of the profession and the public, and notes that the relationship has already provided some very positive results.

6. NEW ZEALAND COLLEGE OF CHIROPRACTIC

I noted in my 2003/04 report that I was extremely pleased with the development of the relationship between the College and the Board over the previous year. I also noted the difficulties that had been experienced in the past, and expressed the hope that there would be significant progress in future. That hope has been realised and in my view the growth in confidence in both sides means that the profession will be well served in future with a respectful and professional relationship between the two institutions. The Board notes that the College received a two-year accreditation from the Council for Chiropractic Education Australasia.

7. WAITING LIST PRACTICE

In July 2004 the Board approved the Chairman issuing a letter to all chiropractors advising that the Board and the Health and Disability Commissioner's office continues to receive complaints from members of the public, and some chiropractors, concerning members of this organisation or practitioners employing similar practice strategies such as forward billing techniques.

The Board has no objection to chiropractors using the Waiting List Practice organisation's methods provided all transactions with the public and the profession are ethical and in compliance with statutes and regulations, and the Board's recently revised Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice.

8. CHANGES TO THE BOARD'S CODE OF PRACTICE

Significant changes to the Board's Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice have been made over the last year. The document is available on the Board's website www.chiropracticboard.org.nz.

9. EXTRA VERTEBRAL TREATMENT

During the year the Board approved regulating a list of practitioners who are qualified to receive payment from ACC for extra-vertebral (EVT) work. ACC have decided that those chiropractors who received appropriate EVT under-graduate training or have completed, to a similar standard, post-graduate courses in EVT, will be able to diagnose and treat this category of patient. The Board, in association with the Chiropractors Association, conducted a very exhaustive appraisal of all chiropractic educational institutions and their graduates. The result is an 'A' list of those qualified for ACC reimbursement and a 'B' list of those who are not. This does not affect the way chiropractors currently work, the only difference is that practitioners on the 'A' list may be paid by ACC for EVT diagnosed problems.

10. ANNUAL PRACTICING CERTIFICATES

In the 2004/05 year the Chiropractic Board issued 302 Annual Practicing Certificates.

11. BOARD FINANCES

I have been very happy with the Board's finances this year. Not only has the Board achieved its goal of establishing a fund from which continuing competence programmes for members of the profession can be supported, it has also been able to implement the requirements of the HPCA without increasing the cost of annual practicing certificates to chiropractors.

Continuing professional development programmes are encouraged under the provisions of the new legislation and the early decision to establish a funding base for this purpose was one which the Board took in early 2003. This fund is now available to support competence programmes and the Board has already made a number of grants.

The Board has adopted the view that reserve funds need to be maintained at a level which equates to one year of base operations. It is likely that these reserves will be used in situations where unusually high demand is placed on the Board, in particular when faced with the expense of disciplinary hearings. However, with the budget under tight control I see no reason why the cost of an annual practicing certificate will need to rise in the near future. It is noteworthy that the budget has had to be amended to reflect the increased costs of competence reviews and Professional Conduct Committees and this is likely to result in a levy being applied to APC holders to fund this increase.

12. LATE PAYMENT FOR APCs

For a number of years the Board has been concerned at the habit of some chiropractors of leaving payment for their APC until a date later (sometimes considerably later) than 31 March of each year. This has meant that the chiropractor concerned is likely to be practicing illegally and, certainly is not permitted to access ACC funding. In an attempt to eliminate this practice the Board has gazetted an additional fee of $100 for APC payments received after 31 March each year. This insures that ACC, the Chiropractor's Association and other interested parties are informed of the status of individual chiropractors with regard to their APC. This year has been the first full year of this policy and I am pleased at the drop in the number of chiropractors who are paying for their APCs after 31 March.

Registered Chiropractors have been and will continue to be reminded in future newsletters of their obligations to pay for their APC by 31 March each year.

13. TRANS-TASMAN MUTUAL RECOGNITION AGREEMENT

In the past the Board has drawn to the attention of the Minister of Health to the fact that a number of chiropractors who have not been required to demonstrate their professional competence before being registered to practice in New Zealand. This situation has now been largely overcome by the establishment of a policy, in conjunction with Australasian jurisdictions, of examining all applicants for registration from outside Australasia. Early indications are that the policy is working well and the number of applications for registration in New Zealand, which have clearly used a 'soft' Australian jurisdiction as a means of accessing New Zealand registration, has dropped considerably.

The Board also notes that it has received clear advice from the Minister that it is able to examine the competence of any applicants for registration, including those applying under the provisions of the TTMRA, and it is currently considering appropriate protocols for this task.

14. BOARD WEBSITE

The Board's website continues to be an important platform for providing information on registration, and can be viewed on www.chiropracticboard.org.nz.

In the coming year the Board will assess the need for further modifications to the site with the intentions of introducing innovations in layout and usability should these be felt necessary in the light of the last three years experience.

15. MAIL CONTACT WITH CHIROPRACTORS

One of the problems the Board experiences every year is the fact that some chiropractors change their mailing address but fail to advise the Board, as they are obliged to do under the provisions of the HPCA. This has led to some individuals practicing without an annual practicing certificate, thereby endangering ACC payments and exposing themselves to the possibility of prosecution for practicing improperly.

The Board encourages changes of address to be notified by fax to (04) 472 2350, or be emailed to chiropractic@regboards.co.nz.

16. CONCLUSION

The last year has been a particularly challenging one and I would like to thank all members of the Board, and in particular the lay members, for their work on behalf of the profession and their support to me in my role as Chairman.
